Bank Robber Weil Is Sentenced Here To 15-Year Term

Bank robber Sigmond Weil yesterday was sentenced here in Federal Court to 15 years in prison to run concurrently with a 10-year term now being served at Angola.

Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Jr. pronounced the sentence in a session that brought 12 other persons before his bench.

All but two pled guilty and one arraignment was passed on various charges that ranged in nature from bank robbery to moonshining.

SENTENCE DEFERRED

Imposition of sentence on Palmer Johnson, 29-year-old Monroe Negro who was convicted of robbing the State Bank of Choudrant, was deferred and a pre-sentence investigation ordered.

Both Weil, a 55-year-old escapee of the Atlanta federal prison who on August 9 robbed the First National Bank in West Monroe, and Johnson were brought here from Angola to face federal charges of bank robbery.

Weil will be returned to the Atlanta prison after serving out his Angora term. He will face charges there for escaping and is also charged with the alleged robbery of a New Orleans bank.

Jim Brazzel of Dubach pled not guilty to four counts of operating a distillery and will be tried here April 5. Both Malvin Joe Brazzel, 42, and Marion Frank Brazzel, both of Dubach, pled guilty to the same charges.

All three were charged with violating probation as they came to court for their second time on the same offenses. Jim Brazzel again pled not guilty while the other two were pleading guilty.

The other not guilty plea came from 31-year-old Mathew Thornton, a Negro, who faced eight charges of having made false statements to the government.

STATEMENTS MADE

His statements came in connection with students studying on the farm - training program where he was teaching.

The arraignment of Lindsey Williams, 26, Negro, of Caldwell parish was passed. He is charged with unlawfully obtaining unemployment benefits.

Charged with intercepting a check from the U.S. mails, forging and uttering it, Will Ollie Lewis, Ruston, pled guilty and his case was deferred pending pre-sentence investigation of the probation officer.

Others who pled guilty included Robert Nash Roberts, 35, Little Rock, charged with forging a government check; Kenneth Ray Crenshaw, 24, Indiana, forging a government check; and Glenn Dawson, 40, Commerce, Okla., violating probation in connection with breaking food and drug laws.

INQUIRY SET

Roberts' case was deferred pending pre-sentence investigation and the imposition of sentence on Crenshaw was suspended. He was placed on five-year supervised probation.

Dawson was put on three-year supervised probation.

One civil case appeared, that being the United States versus Howard B. Hollis and Byrdie P. Hollis, both of Rt. 2, Rayville.

President's Car

Breaks Speed Law

GETTYSBURG, Pa., March 29 (UPI) — President Eisenhower motored to his country estate at speed up to a scorching 70 miles an hour today for a weekend of ease and relaxation.

Accompanying reporters and photographers trying to keep up were flagged down by Montgomery County, Md., police to a legal zone.

"You were going 60 in a 25-mile zone," the police said.

A Secret Service man drove the presidential car. Riding with Eisenhower was Dr. Walter Tschack, assistant White House physician.

In Washington, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty declined comment on the episode.

He also replied "no comment" when a newsmen asked: "Do you think it is proper for the President of the United States to violate the speed limit under any circumstances?"

The President was welcomed by Mrs. Eisenhower at their big white mansion overlooking the historic Gettysburg battlefield. The First Lady has been here for two weeks.

For the President, it was the first glimpse of their home since he dropped in for a few minutes late in January.

Eisenhower covered the 80 miles from the White House in 45 and 10 hours, slowing down occasion-

Union Trial Set On Beck Charges

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council suspended teamster President Dave Beck from its leadership Friday and ordered him to stand union trial for "bringing the labor movement into disrepute."

In an extraordinary two-hour meeting, the labor federation's high command also ordered an investigation to determine whether Beck's 1,540,000-member teamsters union is dominated by "corrupt influences."

The crackdown was the first ever directed at a member of the council, composed of the AFL-CIO president George Meany said the action was unanimous.

FOLLOWS REFUSALS

It came after Beck, powerful leader of the nation's biggest union, had refused to answer Senate Rackets Committee charges that he "may have misappropriated" more than $322,000 in teamster funds.

Beck, an AFL-CIO vice president as well as boss of the teamsters, was not among the 21 council members present at the meeting. He protested that "Teamy" gave such short notice that he was deprived of his right to attend.

Beck's trial, which could lead to his expulsion from the "house of labor" was set for May 22. It appeared certain to spark a new struggle within the AFL-CIO leadership.

The council reacted swiftly to the charges that labor must "clean its own house" to help combat a drive for anti-labor legislation in the wake of the Senate hearings.

Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole agreed that the reduction would "stimulate home building to some degree." But he said it is "not a cure-all" and Mr. Eisenhower's housing requests to Congress still are "urgently needed."

The presidential action came as a House Banking subcommittee voted to make it easier and cheaper for veterans to buy FHA-financed housing.

It approved legislation to give the administration authority to reduce down payments on FHA housing for veterans to 2 1/2 percent on the first $9,000 of appraised value and to 10 percent on the value in excess of that figure.

His long black limousine was hitting it up even through towns, where signs said "School, Drive Slowly."

It was in Rockville, Md., that two police officers in a county squad car picked up the cavalcade then caught up with it on the four-lane highway leading to Frederick.

They pulled alongside newsmen and photographers in trailing cars and told them the speed limit was 55, even if they were following the President of the United States and supposed to keep up with him. The pace had been a steady 70 to 75 miles an hour.

"Why don't you tell the President to slow up?" a reporter shouted.

"He's got four bodyguards," was the answer.

"Somebody's going to get killed one of these days," the officer on the near side yelled, "and it won't be the President. He's up in the first car. You were doing 60 in a 25-mile zone in Rockville."

The squad car turned back at the Montgomery-Frederick County line. Newsmen caught up with the President by hitting it up to

Oil Man Who Pioneered In Area Is Dead

DALLAS, March 29 (Special) — A 75-year-old pioneer independent oil producer who helped develop the Homer and Haynesville fields in Northeast Louisiana died today in a hospital after a long illness.

He was John Wesley Gilliland, well-known Texas and Oklahoma oil man.

He had large part in the development of the oil industry in the Southwest, being a contemporary of Frank Phillips, Harry Sinclair and others.

Gilliland came to Dallas in 1933 when, with A. H. Meadows, he organized the General American Oil Co.

He also helped develop the Cushing, Hominy and Osage fields in Oklahoma and the Burnett field in Wichita County, Tex.

FOR WOMAN'S RETURN

Amnesty Offered Iranian Bandits

Tom Dupree, district fire chief, stationed at Monroe Central Fire Station died late last night at St. Francis Hospital.

He had undergone surgery twice in the past week and a half, the last time being Tuesday.

He started with the Monroe fire department in 1915, and had served continuously since then.

Dupree, who was around 68, resided at 314 North 5th Street in Monroe. Funeral arrangements last night were incomplete.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, and one grandchild.

Dupree had been active every year in drives to raise funds for the benefit of crippled children.

Before the promise of amnesty was broadcast police and army men had said the abductors would be court-martialed and shot on the spot for murder and kidnapping if they are caught.

A massive police and army search for Mrs. Carroll in the desolate mountains and desert has failed to produce any trace of her or her captors.

Authorities believe she may be held in a cave somewhere in the barren mountains near the Pakistan border.

WILL PAY RANSOM

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said, "If we have any firm offer, we are prepared to pay any amount for the release of Anita Carroll."

Officials in Washington said they had no information that the bandits had yet demanded ransom, but if there were any need for the United States to participate in supplying it, the money could be made available from the International Cooperation Administration which runs the U. S. aid program in Iran.

The district fire chief was well known throughout the area and was active in many community affairs.

City Impounds 40 Dogs First Day Of Drive

VA And FHA
Loan Terms
Are Relaxed

City Police yesterday placed about 40 dogs in the city pound at Selman Field in the first day of the crackdown against unvaccinated dogs.

"Several" dogs were destroyed in the process of herding the strays into a city truck.

The operation will continue to day and city officials were still warning local citizens to vaccinate and tag their pets.

1957 ORDINANCE

Prompted by an outbreak of rabid dogs, the action was directed by the City Council, which acted on a 1927 ordinance giving the city authority to impound and destroy dogs.

City Police will continue the drive until the situation has been cleared. Dog owners in West Monroe are urged to keep their pets up until the period is over.

Persons desiring to remove a dog from the pound can do so by contacting the Ouachita parish Health Unit. The vaccination fee plus pound cost will be charged.

Dogs will be kept in the pound for 72 hours before they are destroyed.

Weil will be returned to the Atlanta prison after serving out his Angola term. He will face charges there for escaping and is also charged with the alleged robbery of a New Orleans bank.

They also claim that the city did not have the authority to pass the ordinance.

West Monroe City Attorney John McCormick will charge that the city passed the ordinance upon recommendation of the State Department of Highways.

It has been pointed out that the traffic count on Cypress in 1955 was 18,000 vehicles daily and 1,000 vehicles per day in 1955.

The City of Monroe recently put into effect a similar ban on Louisville Avenue.

Filing suit with Scott were E. J. Davidson, Joe Ford, J. F. Block, Bob Demitry, O. L. Homan, Carey Holmes and DeWitt Hogan.

DeQuincy Girl Baptist Meet Top Speaker

Miss Virginia Puerta, 14, of DeQuincy, Louisiana, last night took first place honors in a youth speakers tournament during the closing session of a two-day Louisiana T.U. conference at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe. She will represent Louisiana in south-wide summer conference. Approximately 1,200 persons filled the vast auditorium last night and heard Miss Puerta along with three others deliver their Christian-centered talks.

Miss Puerta's topic was "We are God's Investment."

SECOND PLACE

Second place winner was Miss Betty Joe Lassiter, of the Queensboro Baptist church of Shreveport. Alternates chosen were Miss Evelyn Bullock, DeRidder, and Miss Shirley Ann Corkin, of Bogalusa.

The Puerta girl will represent Louisiana at a summer session at Ridgecrest, North Carolina and the Lassiter girl will "speak" for the state in Glorieta, New Mexico.

Also in the last session of the Louisiana State Baptist Training convention.

New officers elected earlier in the day were also presented to the Louisiana Baptist Training convention last night.

Al Bankston of First Baptist Church, was re-elected as president; Raymond Jones, Springfield, first vice-president; Bill Sawyer, New Orleans, second vice-president.

Dr. Leon Height, Houma, was elected pastor adviser, and Miss Emily Filipi, was elected recording secretary.

Rev. Jimmy Crowe, of Alexandria newly-appointed state B.T.U. secretary, was re-elected as program chairman.

Dr. Ralph Langley, pastor of the Wilshire Baptist Church, of Dallas, Tex., prominent program personality of the Southern Baptist Convention, closed the meeting last night with a sermon entitled, "Serving the Lord Christ."

Truman Not

NEW YORK, March 29 (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today he doesn't give a damn about his strained relations with President Eisenhower.

A reporter who met him at Pennsylvania Station asked him if he had any plans to make up with Eisenhower. Truman replied:

"It's all on one side. It's not on my part. I just don't give a damn about the situation."

He declined to comment on his case, saying it was "a legal matter and not one to be tried in the papers." He previously had expressed confidence he would be cleared in court.

WOULD LET CABINET DECIDE

Both Parties Provide Opposition To Plan On Presidential Disability

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UPI)—An administration plan for determining presidential disability ran into strong Democratic and Republican opposition Friday at a White House meeting between President Eisenhower and House-Senate leaders.

Many of the congressional leaders agreed that something should be done but frowned on the administration approach. Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) opposed any change, however, on grounds "we've gotten along for 188 years."

Mr. Eisenhower suggested that Congress consider a constitutional amendment providing that the cabinet decide by majority vote whether a president was incapable of performing his duties as the result of a serious illness.

CABINET VOTE

Either the cabinet or the vice president could start the action, but only the cabinet members could vote. This procedure would be followed in the event the president was incapable of making the decision.

The administration plan was based on a study by Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. who attended the meeting. He will submit it to the House Judiciary Committee Monday in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Several of the congressional leaders, including Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland (Calif.), leaned toward a plan embodied in a bill sponsored by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), top Republican member of the House Judiciary Committee.

CREATE COMMISSION

It would create a 10-man presidential inability commission to determine when a president no longer could carry on his duties, time as the president could resume them.

Rayburn opposed both the constitutional amendment and the proposed new law. If the issue is put before Congress, he said, all sorts of alternate proposals will be offered and "I don't know what kind of a mess we would come out with."

Asked if the White House plan would be considered by the House, he replied: "well, it won't have much help out of me."

On the other hand, Knowland thought there was a general feeling among congressional leaders that something should be done. Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said Mr. Eisenhower's views would receive respectful and thorough considera-

ON WING CONTRACT

Story Of Ford Seeking To Pay Back $5 Million Told Incredulous Solons

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UPI)—A government accountant told incredulous congressmen Friday that it sometimes was easier to make $5 million on a federal contract than to get the Air Force to accept a refund.

The unusual situation was unfolded before a House Armed Services subcommittee by Law-rence J. Powers, head of accounting and auditing for the general accounting office. Involved were the Air Force, Ford Motor Co. and Boeing Airplane Co.

Powers said Boeing contracted with Ford for 434 sets of wings for B-47s it was producing. After Ford started production the contract was revised and Ford's profit jumped 9.8 million to 21.8

Ford felt this was too much and asked Boeing to revise the contract again. But Powers said Boeing replied that it could not afford to keep changing the terms. Ford then offered the $5 million to the Air Force.

Subcommittee Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) asked whether Powell meant that Boeing and the Air Force "showed no interest in recovering this $5 million from Ford, " even though the auto firm "insisted on giving it back."

"We found no evidence that the Air Force or Boeing had endeavored to obtain a refund from Ford," Powers replied.

But he said Ford, seizing the initiative, submitted a "written commitment" to the Air Force for the refund and the money was on its way to the treasury.

Powers said Max Golden, deputy Air Force secretary for procurement and production, told him the Air Force did not like to take refunds in such cases. If it did, contractors wanted it to make good on "unanticipated price increases" too.

Powers said the air materiel command told him the situation was disintegrated and wreckage was strewn over a wide area of falling—I'm almost sure it was the countryside. It missed the main section of town by only half a mile.

The impact of the explosion shattered windows in Skiatook, a town about 15 miles north of the Tulsa municipal airport.

Two members of the four-man crews parachuted and were taken to hospitals in Tulsa.

Two hours after the crash, rescue workers were trying to get two more bodies out of a section of the fuselage in a pasture about one-quarter mile southeast of here.

First reports said the plane possibly collided with smaller craft, but the Air National Guard said the reports could not be confirmed.

Several chunks of the plane landed in a dump yard at the edge of town. Some power lines were chopped down by the falling wreckage.

About 50 yards from the large piece of fuselage, part of the landing gear had dug a deep hole. A charred seat ejector assembly

92-YEARS-OLD

Vicksburg Herald Stops Publication

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 29 Sr. said today. He blamed rising production costs.

The Vicksburg Evening Post, also owned by the Cashman family, will continue publication. A Vicksburg Sunday Post will replace the Herald's Sunday morning edition.

An editorial to be published in the last edition of the morning newspaper says:

"Constantly mounting publication costs over which we have had no control, unaccompanied by commensurate increases in advertising revenues, has made the suspension of The Daily Herald inevitable. Most of the Herald employees will be given positions on the Vicksburg Evening Post."

The Post, established in 1883 by Cashman's father, John B. Cashman, acquired the Herald in 1925. The Herald previously had been under a series of owners.

The final editorial said the action will make possible publication of a "stronger and better" Evening Post with added features.

"Despite our efforts we have not been able to keep pace with the tremendous increase in the cost of production," the newspaper said. "During the past decade, newspaper has advanced in price more than 100 per cent and labor costs have increased nearly 100 per cent."

This is the first time the insects have been located in the state since 1918, Nixon said.

The state forester said new attacks are located in East Feliciana, LaSalle and Catahoula parishes.

In addition, six new dead spots were located by aerial survey this morning in LaSalle and Catahoula parishes, Nixon said. They will be checked on the ground tomorrow for evidence of the southern pine beetle.

Entomologist William Bennett of the Southern Forest Experiment Station in New Orleans said the attacks in East Feliciana Parish were in green timber with the beetles still in the trees.

"We are fully conscious of our responsibilities to the people we serve. We shall be dedicated to providing our readers with a complete and well-balanced newspaper they can read with pride and pleasure every day."

The editorial expressed belief readers in this city of more than 27,000 "will benefit immeasurably from a stronger newspaper which we propose to publish."

Maxwell said "it was thought to be generally understood from the outset that the club would have a bar just as we thought all country clubs have bars for members and guests to 'take it or leave it' just as they do at hotels and restaurants."

"However," he continued, "next week we will mail secret ballots to all members to permit them to vote on whether or not they want a bar and we will be guided by what the majority wants."

Club members will vote on the question following a statement from the West Monroe Ministerial Association asking for omission of bar facilities and a card that it will be a place of gambling. The action was taken at a meeting.

Rumney Under New Indictment For Forgeries

CHICAGO, March 29 (UPI)—Frank C. Rumney, 39, Atlanta, Ga., was accused today of netting $50,000 in less than a year in a nationwide forgery scheme.

A federal grand jury returned an indictment in connection with alleged operations in Chicago. Rumney is under indictment in New Orleans on similar charges and the government said other indictments might be returned in 20 other federal jurisdictions throughout the country.

James B. Parsons, assistant U.S. district attorney, said Rumney passed more than $50,000 in forged checks since his release from prison in May, 1956, after serving time for robbery.

Vicksburg Herald Stops Publication

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 29 Sr. said today. He blamed rising production costs.

The Vicksburg Evening Post, also owned by the Cashman family, will continue publication. A Vicksburg Sunday Post will replace the Herald's Sunday morning edition.

An editorial to be published in the last edition of the morning newspaper says:

"Constantly mounting publication costs over which we have had no control, unaccompanied by commensurate increases in advertising revenues, has made the suspension of The Daily Herald inevitable. Most of the Herald employees will be given positions on the Vicksburg Evening Post."

The Post, established in 1883 by Cashman's father, John B. Cashman, acquired the Herald in 1925. The Herald previously had been under a series of owners.

The final editorial said the action will make possible publication of a "stronger and better" Evening Post with added features.

Hearings Set On Oil Fields

BATON ROUGE, March 29 (UPI)—The Louisiana Conservation Department today announced public hearings May 1 at the state capitol.

The hearings, by fields: Antioch—approval of cycling and pressure maintenance for the Smackover "A" limestone.

Bolinger—80-acre spacing and other rules for the Pettit zone.

Clear Creek—approval of unitization for upper Bearhead Creek sand.

Maurice—regulations and units for the roane sand.

Cankton area—rules for well located in 25-T8S-R3E.

The department announced it had added two hearings to a series already scheduled for April 25 at Shreveport, one relative to the Pettit formation in Longwood field and one on a proposed water-flooding project for the Baughman sand reservoir of Delhi field.

Newsmen Protest Travel Ban Voids Rights Of Press

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UPI)—Washington Post and Times Herald, repeated a previous protest made to Dulles by ASNE last month. This was that the travel ban infringed on the right of people in the United States to know, through their own reporters, about conditions in China.

They got agreement in that from Sen. O'Mahony (D-Wyo.), who was presiding over the opening session of the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee's hearing on State Department passport policies.

Complaint was also made to the group by William Worthy, an American newsman who defected to Communist China, that the State Department reportedly attempted to halt use of his broadcasts and is holding up renewal of his passport.

Among witnesses who registered protests were spokesmen for the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the American Civil Liberties Union and the American Newspaper Guild.

Speaking for ASNE, J. Russell Wiggins, executive editor of the Edward J. Ennis, general counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, saw the refusal of passports to reporters seeking to visit Red China as an "arbitrary and novel censorship, with a strong impact on freedom of the press."

The United States does not recognize Red China's government and the State Department prohibited travel there by U.S. citizens as long as other Americans are being held prisoner in Red China.

Worthy, 35, a reporter for the Baltimore Afro-American, and other American newsmen, employed by Look magazine, defied the ban and went to the Chinese mainland last December.

Worthy told the subcommittee he understood persistent pressure listed as the Ballot Battalion, the Kiwanis Teacher Recruitment program, the week of Prayer for Permanent Peace, U.S.-Canada Good Will Week, participation in the National Radio Week, Kids' Day, Youth Panel Forum program and participation in National Newspaper Week were included in the award-winning activities.

Key Club International, a high school boys' service organization, for the third year in a row received the Foundation's highest youth award—the George Washington Medal.

With a program which was based on patriotism and influencing communities for progress, the 1956 Key Club activities were highly commended by the Foundation.

Who Can Judge Children?

By Earl J. Lyons

Minneapolis Juvenile Court Judge

As Told To Anne Cawley Boardman

All of us worship something. We couldn't endure living otherwise. Some people deify a totem pole, others a state.

The delinquent and abandoned children who come before me all have their gods, too. Most probably these gods will be the coveted attention, or longed-for affection, of others.

I believe it is up to us, working together, through our courts, churches, schools and homes, to replace their tottering values.

Each day before court opens, the children, and such of their parents as can be located, are gathered together in the court anteroom. It has been my custom at this time to speak with them for a few minutes, as a group, before they come before me individually. I want to set their minds thinking about a Power higher than that which we represent. I ask them to reach out to Someone bigger to help with their problems.

Believes in Prayer

I preside over a court, not a Sunday School. But, I am a firm believer in the therapy of prayer.

Folks in trouble are mentally ready to seek help. And as I talk, I can read their eyes, trying to visualize whom I am referring to: a higher court judge, the Governor, . . . maybe Presidential intervention on their behalf? Then I ask them simply to seek guidance from the Superior Being whom we

No Guidance For Nixon If Ike Disabled

WASHINGTON March 29. — President Eisenhower may someday be unable to carry out his duties. That's a possibility facing every president. But the Constitution is blank on how the vice president takes over in such a case.

Eisenhower and members of Congress are anxious to fill in this blank. He called in congressional leaders today to get their views before submitting his own recommendations to the lawmakers.

This hole in the Constitution has existed since the beginning of the Republic. But, because there are so many differences of opinion on what to do about it, and how, it may not be done this year either.

The Constitution — Article II, Section 1 — says:

"In case of the removal of the President from office or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president. . . . It's clear that the vice president steps in if the President is removed from office, dies or resigns. But fog swirls around the question of 'disability.'"

Who decides when a president is unable to carry out his duties and that therefore the vice president should take over? The President himself or the vice president or the Cabinet or Congress or a medical commission?

The President could do it, if he were conscious and wanted to. But suppose, although unable to function, he didn't want to yield to his vice president. Who decides then?

Imagine another situation: The President, through illness or some calamity, is unable to declare his own disability in order to let the vice president take over. What then?

And once a vice president did take over, would it be only temporarily? Suppose the President recovered but the vice president argued that he now was the president.

Should the vice president decide on a president's disability and step into the job of the Presidency? That might split the country wide open if there were suspicion the vice president was trying to usurp the top office.

All these questions have been raised about this problem. Various answers have been offered: Let the President decide on his own disability, a solution which ignores a situation in which a president couldn't decide; let the Cabinet decide; let Congress do it.

And how should this hole in the Constitution be patched up: by an act of Congress (the Constitution as some interpret it says Congress could do it), or by the people themselves through a constitutional amendment submitted to the states?

Presidents Garfield, Wilson and Eisenhower all suffered long periods of disability but none ever turned his job over to his vice president. Eisenhower was conscious all the time he was ill and could function to some degree most of the time.

Day Is Set Aside To Honor Doctors

Today, March 30, is a day that has been set aside as Doctors' Day, a day for paying honor and tribute to the physicians of this country.

Northeast Louisiana and the rest of the state are joining with the entire nation in observing this occasion.

The object of Doctors' Day is to further the well-being and honor of the profession, its observance demanding some clear, good education "draws out" the individual, helping him to exploit his native capacities. It does not try to fill empty minds with book learning.

Good education thus demands personal contact between teacher and student. It requires active individual participation by the student—a process that cannot take place in a darkened room before an impersonal TV screen.

The second danger is the temptation to see classroom TV as a way of stretching appropriate. While the need of specialists is fully recognized, emphasis lately has been placed on the re-development of a close personal relationship between members of a family and the family doctor. Realization that many diseases are psychosomatic and that the whole personality needs to be treated, and not just a specific ailment, has again elevated the family physician to his former high position. This can give.

Anti-Aircraft Is On War Footing In U.S.

In breaking the news that the Army is developing the Hawk, a new guided missile intended to stop low-level attack, Lt. Gen. Stanley S. Mikelsen, chief of the Anti-Aircraft Command, stressed that his forces are on a war footing—alerted and deployed where they would fight.

While Americans live with this unpleasant truth daily, it is somehow easier to ignore it. Great cities especially have become armed fortresses. Their perimeter of death-dealing batteries could explode in the skies tomorrow. It is an ugly thought, hardly less so than if the nation were known to be totally defenseless.

March 30 was the day on which that famous Georgian, Dr. Crawford W. Long, first used anesthesia in surgery and that was the date selected in his honor as Doctors' Day.

Physicians, as well as others, like to know that their efforts are appreciated. They deal in precious commodities—human life and health—and they put supreme effort into their tasks, often knowing that only intricate skill and their utmost attention will avail.

Remember that a doctor is a person and that he wants your appreciation and friendship.

Use Of Big Union Funds For Private Purposes Described As Not Unusual

What has been developed thus far in the Senate investigation of well-known and responsible men, which means that the power of the Teamsters Union is that a firm. It would seem that it is purposes. The amounts are large accounts would therefore be easily crooked to buy a horse or and the date is important. How bad, but it would be of tremendous senator.

Senate McClellan and his committee have opened a very important subject that has needed full investigation since 1936. To limit such an investigation to those unions which have affiliated them selves with Dave Beck is not sufficient; all the unions need to be investigated in the interest of their members as well as the general public, so that a thorough knowledge may be made available as to what happens to the enormous amounts which are taken out of the workers' pay envelope. Is it necessary for the unions to set up reserves amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars? Are all the welfare funds actually managed?

Do the unions conform to the provisions of the Taft-Hartley law and the Smith law? If these laws of Congress are inadequate, should not new legislation be passed so that elections can no more be bought by the labor unions than by the corporations?

That labor unions have since 1936 been making enormous political contributions not only to political parties but to individual for the country as a chief who are not meeting candidates. ### World Moves Six Months Without Using Suez Canal

WASHINGTON, D. C. — As the synthetic rubber. Did you know Suez Canal reopens to traffic this that South Korea was a major month, there is one fact worth source for tungsten? Well, during pondering. Since early November, the famous "police action," we going on six months now, the Canal has been inoperative, and the developed Western Hemisphere world has wagged along well tungsten, and this year the defense Department has reported a surplus of tungsten in the national stockpile. If we never shipped another barrel of oil through the Suez, the result would not be an oil shortage. The result would be the discovery of new petroleum pools and the development of petroleum substitutes for industry and personal use.

McClellan didn't hesitate. He obtained contempt citations against them then moved swiftly to obtain Senate approval for the "select" committee over which he is now presiding, which would have authority beyond question to inquire into the affairs of their union.

McClellan didn't hesitate. He obtained contempt citations against them then moved swiftly to obtain Senate approval for the "select" committee over which he is now presiding, which would have authority beyond question to inquire into the affairs of their union.

We can live without Europe and Africa. We have a national stockpile of strategic materials which is overflowing today like the Commodity Credit Corporation bins of food and fabric. We can live without all those nations of NATO, SEATO, and the Eisenhower Doctrine. Trade concessions to some of our dependencies is the reason we have developed Western Hemisphere world is interdependent. It isn't. It is regionally independent.

Instead of rushing to repair the Nasar-dome damage, the secretary said, we should sit down and state the terms under which the West would consent to unsnap the big ditch and agree to use it again. Mr. Acheson was arguing, though maybe he didn't know it, that Nasser needs the West much worse than the West needs him. If there is any begging to be done, it ought to be done by Egypt's El Supremo — not by our side.

Since November, West Europe has passed through a full season of winter with no undue hardship to the people or the industry. The American petroleum industry, although automatically attacked by our Social Democrat party, turns out to have met the emergency demands with no particular strain upon its resources. A good case I would think, can be made to show that the Suez Canal stoppage was a blessing in disguise. New pipe-lines for oil have been started in the Mid-East; ideas for a new and more modern canal have been surveyed; super-tankers have been built all over the free world, from communism world, a review of our petroleum industry has been instituted. France has greatly speeded up the oil production in the Sahara wasteland, and all the Western nations have given renewed attention to the Versailles Treaty will change their minds and admit themselves wrong. If you wonder who the One Worlders were — and still are — I give you this passage from "The Age of Roosevelt" by Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.:

"In the spring of 1919 the veterans gathered to make the peace. Reparations provision of the settlement was in charge of John Foster Dulles, aged 31, whose younger brother, Allen, aged 26, was a key member of the American secretariat. William C. Bullitt, aged 28 . . . Adolf A. Berle, Jr., aged 24 (were also there) . . . Benjamin V. Cohen, aged 25, was working to secure a homeland for the Jews."

Yesterday's dreamers! Once upon a time the Suez Canal was essential, and nations were interdependent, but not in our day. The Mid-East "crisis" has never existed save in the minds of its creators. The Suez Canal is obsolete. The Israel - Arab war is no newer than the pyramids. It is true that the USA may get itself involved in the ancient squabbles. But let nobody say that it was an easy thing to do. We had to close our eyes to the facts of modern industrial independence. And we had to go to the ends of the earth this time to find a war which we could join.

And after that, management will have its turn.

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

50-50 Chance Of Passing School Aid Bill Is Seen

WASHINGTON, March 30 (CQ) — Lobbyists on both sides of the easy for their lobbyists to call on Federal school aid bill see only a 50-50 chance of Congress passing it.

The doubtful outlook has inspired lobbyists into an all-out grass-roots campaign to tip the scales their way. Both sides see expression at the grass roots as the decisive weight.

Spending most of its lobbying effort on trying to neutralize the Chamber's campaign is the National Education Assn., with a membership of 639,000 teachers and school supervisors.

The NEA also has placed heavy emphasis on getting its members to write Congress in support of Federal aid for school construction.

The AFL-CIO is lobbying for the school bill on its own and chairing a large group of other organizations behind the measure. The group is called the Conference on Federal Aid to Education and includes the American Parents Committee, American Veterans Committee, Americans for Democratic Action, American Veterans of World War II and Korea, Cooperative League of the USA, General Federation of Women's clubs, Jewish War Veterans, National Council of Jewish Women, National Farmers Union and the United Mine Workers. Those organizations, too, have Washington offices.

Biemiller said the conference members discuss strategy and trade information on the school bill, but rely largely on individual efforts for bringing pressure to bear on Congress. He said the AFL-CIO has given the school bill "absolute top" priority and has urged its local leaders to encourage the union's 15 million members to write their Congressmen.

CHAMBER EFFORT

In its lobby effort the Chamber is turning out brochures, statistics, charts and press releases by the thousands to defeat the bill. It also is advising its members on the most effective way to influence their Congressmen. One letter going to Congressmen on the stationery of the Sunter, S. C., Chamber of Commerce starts:

—South Carolina is one of the 32 states, which would receive more school building funds than they paid into the support of school aid bills now pending before Congress. Let me hasten to add, however, that we are very definitely opposed to such legislation . . .

Miles said the Chamber also is discussing overall strategy for defeating the bill with such allies as the American Farm Bureau Federation, American Legion, American Medical Assn., Investment Bankers Assn., National Assn. of Manufacturers and National Assn. of Real Estate Boards. All those organizations have

DR. CRANE SAYS

Many Old Autos Driven By Fine Type Of Personality

Tom gets a gold star for solving his earthly problems both cheerfully and successfully. Are you readers doing equally well with your more favored physical endowment? Earth is a classroom in God's Cosmic School so don't try to play hookey nor develop silly excuses. The real YOU is not your body, for you will leave it at death. So stress the chauffeur instead of the car.

In a more recent instance several officials of the Teamsters Union refused to answer questions at a hearing of a Government Operations subcommittee over which McClellan also presided, on the ground the committee had no authority to inquire into the affairs of their union.

That defiance by Teamster officials is turning out to be the most unwise move on the part of any leaders of organized labor since John L. Lewis defied a federal court order to end a coal strike and drew a heavy fine.

McClellan gives the impression that the hearings are just begun that they will extend to other areas and other unions, and that he is as devoid of bluff as Caesar at the Rubicon. And at the end he strongly intimates, the Senate will be presented with a full bill of particulars which will make it difficult to reject legislation intended to cure the evils the investigation has revealed. These include labor racketeering and misuse of labor union funds, collected from dues paying members, especially sick benefit and welfare funds, which many union officials are charged with misusing.

Specifically, what he is trying to get is a "general picture of present activities in the labor movement and of the abuses which should be corrected."

Some few of his colleagues have described him as "reactionary" and have intimated that he is trying to "pay off" business interests which supported him for reelection by going after organized persons.

He uses crutches and operates newsstand in our area. And he is the friend of everybody.

"Isn't it surprising what a wonderful personality some people can have in spite of their wrecked bodies?"

Driver vs. Jalopy

Yes, and so it is regarding automobiles, too. Many old jalopies are being driven by the finest type of personalities.

Jolly, cheerful and generous souls may still be seen outmoded cars down the street.

So we must never confuse the driver with the car which he pilots.

Our bodies are simply the machines to carry us over the ground during our 70 years on this earth.

But our soul "personality" is the chauffeur. And that chauffeur dare not be judged by the looks of the machine.

Some religious, such as Theosophists, believe that we may be re-incarnated on this earth.

They feel that the people in the crippled human machines, such as Tom, may be granted the chance to have perfect athletic bodies in their next incarnation, and vice versa.

For they maintain that Earth is just a testing laboratory where in our personalities are measured under various types of situations.

Day Is Set Aside

To Honor Doctors

Today, March 30, is a day that has been set aside as Doctors' Day, a day for paying honor and tribute to the physicians of this country.

Northeast Louisiana and the rest of the state are joining with the entire nation in observing this occasion.

The object of Doctors' Day is to further "the well-being and honor of the profession, its observance demanding some sort of kindness, gift or tribute in remembrance of the doctors."

In some ways Doctors' Day resembles Mother's Day, since a red carnation is worn to signify remembrance of the occasion and tribute is paid to both the living and dead.

New attitudes of the medical profession in recent years have made the celebration of a day in their honor especially appropriate. While the need of specialists is fully recognized, emphasis lately has been placed on the re-development of a close personal relationship between members of a family and the family doctor. Realization that many diseases are psychosomatic and that the whole personality needs to be treated, and not just a specific ailment, has again elevated the family physician to his former high position. This has largely restored the personal relationship that existed between the old-time family physician and his patients.

Persons who wish to pay tribute to their physicians and to let them know they appreciate the many kindnesses and personal attention the doctors have shown them, as well as the treatment of their ailments, may do so by sending flowers or by writing notes of appreciation.

The idea of Doctors' Day was originated in 1933 by Mrs. G. B. Almond of Winder, Ga., a member of the county medical association auxiliary. It was introduced to the American Medical Association in 1934 and to the Southern Medical Association in 1935 and is now observed by almost every state organization in the nation.

March 30 was the day on which that famous Georgian, Dr. Crawford W. Long, first used anesthesia in surgery and that was the date selected, in his honor, as Doctors' Day.

Physicians, as well as others, like to know that their efforts are appreciated. They deal in precious commodities—human life and health—and they put supreme effort into their tasks, often knowing that only intricate skill and their utmost attention will avail.

Remember that a doctor is a person and that he wants your appreciation and friendship.

Danger Is Feared In

Television Teaching

A university professor's nightmare of television classrooms in which students are fed knowledge from a flickering screen while they are kept in order by an all-seeing TV eye is horrifying enough to warrant his alarm, that "the machine has almost got us already."

An educational system so conceived and operated would bring America to the dead end of conformity and to the brink of George Orwell's "1984".

It is important, however, to see where the danger lies and not simply inveigh against a new technique. One danger is in failing to grasp the limitations of TV, which can be a valuable teaching aid but a disastrous substitute for teachers.

That danger will be avoided so long as the essential nature of education is kept clear. Good education "draws out" the individual, helping him to exploit his native capacities. It does not try to fill empty minds with book learning.

Good education thus demands personal contact between teacher and student. It requires active individual participation by the student—a process that cannot take place in a darkened room before an impersonal TV screen.

The second danger is the temptation to see classroom TV as a way of stretching the supply of teachers. Even among those who admit that TV is not just as good, there may be a feeling that it is better than nothing.

No doubt the professor's alarm is exaggerated, but clearly constant vigilance will be needed to keep TV in its place and profit wisely from the educational aid it can give.

Anti-Aircraft Is On

War Footing In U.S.

In breaking the news that the Army is developing the Hawk, a new guided missile intended to stop low-level attack, Lt. Gen. Stanley S. Mikelsen, chief of the Anti-Aircraft Command, stressed that his forces are on a war footing—alerted and deployed where they would fight.

While Americans live with this unpleasant truth daily, it is somehow easier to ignore it. Great cities especially have become armed fortresses. Their perimeter of death-dealing batteries could explode the skies tomorrow. It is an ugly thought, hardly less so than if the nation were known to be totally defenseless.

For lack of such a weapon as Hawk, which still has many bugs in its mechanism, the system is vulnerable. There is no counter to the jet bomber which sweeps in at less than 1,000 feet altitude. Even five years ago scientists were saying that the problem was insoluble. Too little time was afforded the devices which determine range and control fire.

Hawk, which is to carry an atomic warhead, may in time prove that the scientists were too pessimistic. Still, it would seem a little early to cheer the victory, short of knowing all about Hawk's particular brand of magic.

Any missile, bent on tracking a bomber coming over the horizon at tree-top level, cannot get much of a running start. The bomber, supposedly, is laden with fissionable material. It could be assumed, also, that one atomic blast will trigger another.

These propositions automatically raise the question whether a successful hit by Hawk would not compound an explosion devastating to everything beneath.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Use Of Big Union Funds For Private

Purposes Described As Not Unusual

What has been developed thus far in the Senate investigation of the Teamsters Union is that a number of well-known and responsible firms. Sometimes, it is rumored, such payments are made in cash which is probably illegal and the accounts would therefore be garnished. But it would be of tremendous value to know as much as it is possible to know about how much of the workers' dues has been spent to support favored candidates and how many members of Congress are beholden to particular labor leaders.

There is a further point that the Senate committee needs to consider, if its reputation is to be subline as an impartial body seeking only the truth. And that is that even before the amalgamation of the AF of L and the CIO, there has been a struggle for power and pre-eminence between such leaders as George Meany of the AF of L and Walter Reuther of the CIO. Into this struggle entered Dave Beck, the head of the Teamsters Union, the largest in the country. Beck became the most overt opponent of Walter Reuther. Americans generally are little concerned with the private ambitions of either man, but few would like to see a committee of the United States Senate prefer one to the other.

That unions controlled by Democrats and Socialists receive the same kind of fine-combing of accounts as unions which are managed by Republicans. The Senate committee will discover that no political school of thought has a monopoly of crooks or of honest and self-sacrificing men. It will reward to the statue of Senator McClellan if he investigates all the unions which possess multi-million dollar treasures to discover what they are doing with the money.

2. That labor unions have since 1936 been making enormous political contributions not only to political parties but to individual candidates. Some of these expenditures have come out of strike funds and educational funds. The breakdown of such expenditures will require superior accounting to what happens to dues. The principal claim against Beck is that he swiped the money and for the political opportunist.

for someone's political advancement, which means that the political personality becomes a dependent of the particular labor leader? It would seem that it is equally crooked to buy a horse or a senator.

Senator McClellan and his committee have opened a very important subject that has needed full investigation since 1936. To limit such an investigation to those unions which have affiliated themselves with Dave Beck is not sufficient; all the unions need to be investigated in the interest of their members as well as the general public, so that a thorough knowledge may be made available as to what happens to the enormous amounts which are taken out of the workers' pay envelope. Is it necessary for the unions to set up reserves amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars? Are all the welfare funds actuarially managed?

Do the unions conform to the provisions of the Taft-Hartley law and the Smith law? If these acts of Congress are inadequate, should not new legislation be passed so that elections can no more be bought by the labor unions than by the corporations?

Unions are here to stay and those who fight unionism on general principles are not meeting the problems of the day rationally. But unions can be honestly and efficiently managed and ought to be a source of income for the political opportunist.

World Moves Six Months

Without Using Suez Canal

WASHINGTON, D. C. — As the Suez Canal reopens to traffic this month, there is one fact worth pondering. Since early November, going on six months now, the Canal has been inoperative, and the free world has wagged along well enough without it.

This is at once the most salient and the most unmentioned fact about the Middle East and our policy there. Almost unmentioned, too, was a really brilliant scheme offered informally by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson in his testimony on the Eisenhower Doctrine. Mr. Acheson told the House Foreign Affairs committee that the smartest thing we could do would be to leave Egyptian President Nasser with his sabotaged canal on his own hands.

Instead of rushing to repair the Nasser-done damage, the ex-Secretary said, we should sit down and state the terms under which the West would consent to unstop the big ditch and agree to use it again. Mr. Acheson was arguing, though he didn't know it, that Nasser needs the West much worse than the West needs him.

If there is any begging to be done, it ought to be done by Egypt's El Supremo — not by our side.

Since November, West Europe has passed through a full season of winter with no undue hardship to the people or the industry. The American petroleum industry, although automatically attacked by our Social Democrat party, turns out to have met the emergency demands with no particular strain upon its resources.

A good case to show that the Suez Canal stoppage was a blessing in disguise. New pipe-lines for oil have been started in the Mid-East, ideas for a new and more modern canal have been surveyed, super-tankers have been built all over the free - from Communism world, they get out of office.

Review of our petroleum industry, a nation stockpile of strategic materials which is overflowing today like the Commodity Credit Corporation bins of food and fabric. We can live without all those nations of NATO, SEATO and the Eisenhower Doctrine. Trade concessions to some of our dependencies is the reason we have "depressed areas" in the textile, coal and pottery industries. The industrial revolution, now reaching its crest, has already liberated America from the Old World. The revolution, given its full chance to spin, will eventually liberate each nation from its neighbor, at which time we will have true international independence — good neighbor nationalism.

Foreign policy makers never go into all this until, like Mr. Acheson, they get out of office. No pundit ever liquidates his own theories, and so it's too much to expect that statesmen and journalists who made up their minds for interdependence at the time of the Versailles Treaty will change their minds and admit themselves wrong. If you wonder who the One Worlders were — and still are — I give you this passage from "The Age of Roosevelt" by Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.:

"In the spring of 1919 the victors gathered to make the peace... Reparations provision of the settlement was in charge of John Foster Dulles, aged 31, whose younger brother Allen, aged 26, was a key member of the American secretariat. William C. Bullitt, aged 28... Adolf A. Berle, Jr., aged 24 (were also there)... Benjamin V. Cohen, aged 25, was working to secure a homeland for the Jews."

Yesterday's dreamers! Once upon a time the Suez Canal was a necessity, and nations were interdependent, but not in our day.

The Mid-East "crisis" has never existed save in the minds of its creators. The Suez Canal is obsolete. The Israel - Arab war is no newer than the pyramids. It is true that the USA may get itself involved in the ancient squabbles. But let nobody say that it was an easy thing to do.

We had to close our eyes to the facts of modern industrial independence. And we had to go to the ends of the earth this time to find a war which we could join.

And after that, management will have its turn.

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

50-50 Chance Of Passing

School Aid Bill Is Seen

WASHINGTON, March 30 (CQ) — Lobbyists on both sides of the Federal school aid bill see only a 50-50 chance of Congress passing it.

The doubtful outlook has inspired lobbyists into an all-out grass-roots campaign to tip the scales their way. Both sides see expression at the grass roots as the decisive weight.

The obstacles to passage seen by those favoring the bill are mainly sentiment for a reduction in the budget and the threatened amendment to bar funds to any school district operating segregated schools.

Those against the bill say their main obstacles are the commitments in both party platforms for school aid and the desire of President Eisenhower for the legislation.

Andrew J. Biemiller, the former Democratic Representative who heals AFL-CIO lobbying, characterizes budget - cutting sentiment and the anti-segregation proposal as "the tough ones"; his group must overcome. Biemiller said he sees little danger of an inter-party fight over the bill because it will be a compromise.

John R. Miles of the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S., a leader in the battle against Federal aid, agrees with Biemiller's estimate of the obstacles against the bill. Miles said the Chamber's stand is strengthened further by growing opposition to Federal intervention in state affairs.

CHAMBER EFFORT

In its lobby effort the Chamber is turning out brochures, statistics, charts and press releases by the thousands to defeat the bill. It also is advising its members on the most effective way to influence their Congressmen. One letter going to Congressmen on the stationery of the Sunter, S. C., Chamber of Commerce starts:

"South Carolina is one of the 32 states, which would receive more school building funds than they paid into the support of school aid bills now pending before Congress. Let me hasten to add, however, that we are very definitely opposed to such legislation . . ."

Miles said the Chamber also is discussing overall strategy for defeating the bill with such allies as the American Farm Bureau Federation, American Legion, American Medical Assn., Investment Bankers Assn., National Assn. of Manufacturers and National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

All those organizations have ties in Washington, making it easy for their lobbyists to call on Congressmen.

Miles described the Chamber's campaign as two - pronged: to whip up opposition to Federal aid to education and to prod states into solving their own school problems.

Spending most of its lobbying effort on trying to neutralize the Chamber's campaign is the National Education Assn., an organization with a membership of 659,000 teachers and school supervisors. The NEA also has placed heavy emphasis on getting its members to write Congress in support of Federal aid for school construction.

The AFL-CIO is lobbying for the school bill on its own and chartering a large group of other organizations behind the measure.

ELKHART, Ind., March 29 (P— The administration added its support today, along with that of a big group of students, in defense of three Elkhart University laboratory instructors accused of giving drinking parties for co-eds.

"All the girls involved in the charges are members of one clique," said Carter Elliott, son of the owner of the downtown school.

He wouldn't elaborate on that statement nor say whether the eight girls who signed complaints were still students.

Elliot said the three accused instructors have denied the accusations, but he said the administration's investigation was continuing. About half of the school's 300 students issued a statement that they believed the instructors had only proper classroom associations with their students.

Hugh A. (Doc) Woosley, 40, Frank Schultz, Jr., 28, and Robert Zimmerman, 32, were arrested Tuesday on charges of giving intoxicants to minors. They posted $300 bail each and are to be tried Monday.

The university, which started as a business college, later expanded, adding a school for dental technicians.

Franklin Army Reserves To Stage Campaign

WINNSBORO, March 29 (Special) — Thirty-three Franklin parish Army reservists will split up into recruiting teams Saturday in an all-out drive to fill existing vacancies in Winnsboro's 706th Engineer Company, a hometown Army reserve unit.

The do-it-yourself recruiters will have teams in Winnsboro, Crowley, Gilbert, and Wisner.

They will attempt to fill vacancies in such technical fields as diesel mechanics, automobile mechanics, machinists, heavy equipment repairmen, and others.

First Lieutenant Paul R. Kirkpatrick, company commander of the 706th, and Wisner High coach, pointed out that men who volunteer for the unit would receive specialized training in fields of their choice.

"It is impossible to expect to find enough men who are already qualified in these specialized fields," he said, "but we can and will train those who join."

Last Rites Set For J. Fourmy

FRANKLIN, March 28 (Special) — Services for the brother of a Monroe resident will be held this morning in Franklin.

J. Victor Fourmy of Reserve, who died on Thursday afternoon in a New Orleans hospital, will be buried in the Franklin cemetery. Services are scheduled in Grace Episcopal Church.

Survivors include three brothers, L. U. Fourmy of Monroe, James J. Fourmy of Hammond, and Carroll Fourmy of Memphis, Tenn.; his widow, and one son, both of Reserve; and one sister, Mrs. Earl H. Fourmy of Monroe.

and Mrs. Carl Shipp, he said, is undertaking much of the job of English-teaching.

The boys were said to be working well at their duties, being adept at tractor - and truck-driving. But their patron asked Mrs. Pappas to caution them against driving daytimes with the vehicles' lights on. A bell-ringing system has been arranged as a means of communication between the Gilberts' residence and the boys' quarters, and they told Mrs. Pappas they were usually awake, dressed and ready to go when the morning bell sounded.

The two young Hungarians, who have expressed the wish to remain in the Wisner community, with the Gilberts, and eventually qualify for American citizenship, made their escape to freedom from Russian - dominated Hungary with the assistance of a friendly train conductor, who gave them a free lift to within 15 miles of Austria, and they walked the remainder of the distance. At the time, the Russians were shipping Hungarian youths their age to Siberia in boxcars, as forced slave-laborers.

Both are orphans, their parents having been killed in the fighting. Joe had brothers and sisters, but knows nothing of their whereabouts or whether they are alive.

But they are now "adjusting," their patron said. They work well, like their bikes, watches, television, the movies, and horseback-riding and their new life in general.

Others installed included Melvin Valentine and Terral Denton, newly elected to two-year terms on the board of directors; Norman Welch and Joe Nugent, hold-over board members with one year remaining of their two-year terms, and Jimmie Dickerson, immediate past president, who is ex officio a member of the board of directors.

Lee Thompson Installed As Jaycees Head

JENA, March 29 (Special) — Lee Thompson, Jena mortician, was installed as president of the LaSalle Parish Junior Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year, succeeding Jimmie Dickerson at an installation dinner tonight.

Jake Ussery of Monroe, president of the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce, was present to serve as installing officer.

Also on hand for the installation were Sam Clark of Alexandria, state vice president, and Ed Ware, president of the Alexandria Jaycees.

In addition to Thompson, new officers for the new year were T. J. Buford, first vice president; Doyle Windham, second vice president; Muriel Windham, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Butler, state director.

Others installed included Melvin Valentine and Terral Denton, newly elected to two-year terms on the board of directors; Norman Welch and Joe Nugent, hold-over board members with one year remaining of their two-year terms, and Jimmie Dickerson, immediate past president, who is ex officio a member of the board of directors.

Probe Pushed In Burglary Of City Store

City police launched a full-scale probe yesterday afternoon into the $449 cash burglary of Krauss and Cain clothing store on De Siard street.

Officers said they had a number of new leads and late last night were busy checking them out.

Store officials said the $449 figure represented the cash amount taken from a closed, but unlocked safe.

A quick inventory yesterday by store personnel revealed that three pair of shoes, and three sport shirts had been taken in the burglary.

Officers said a burglar or burglars cut a neat, square hole in the roof of the building and descended into the store.

Stewart Doernberg, manager of the store, told police it would be "while" before knowing exactly what merchandise was taken.

This was the second time in six years the store had been hit by burglars.

Store officials said merchandise was scattered throughout the store and the place was left in a general state of disorder.

Elaine Bee, bookkeeper for the establishment, said records were "strewn all over the building."

"There seemed to be a certain curiosity in the burglar," she said. "He apparently went over a large number of the papers and then just threw them wildly."

In 1951 the store was hit by burglars for about $1200 to $1300 worth of merchandise. Doernberg said no cash was taken in that break-in.

Police had named no specific suspects in the burglary late last night.

Victim Of Gun Shot Wound Is On Critical List

NATCHEZ, March 29 (Special)—William Myers, 38-year-old Natchez man who allegedly shot himself today, was "holding his own" tonight in the Charity Hospital here.

Myers' condition was still listed as critical.

Police said he shot himself through the forehead with a .22-caliber rifle. The slug was found buried in the wall after coming out the top of his head.

The shooting occurred on the same day his wife was granted a divorce.

Police said his wife was sitting on the front porch when she heard the shot. She found him lying across the bed in the front bedroom.

should be traveling in your condition?" — Lions magazine.

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard has issued a leaflet to the people of Monroe called "Operation Clean-up" which is coordinated with the Monroe City Beautification board, Chamber of Commerce and numerous local clubs.

The city is divided into action groups: College area; East Monroe; North side; Southside and the colored sectors.

His letter urges that all residents work closely together and seek for the city's good.

There is provided a property owner's check list with 12 focal points to be considered and a check mark "yes" or "no" is provided. At the bottom there is a place for the score.

Sunday will be a big day for the Ouachita Parish Society for Crippled Children and adults for it will mark the formal opening of the Carolyn Rose Strauss Rehabilitation center, an Easter seal facility.

Open house for their beautiful new home on Oliver road will be ready for the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The dedication exercises are set for 2 p.m. and the public is cordially invited.

Culminating many months of effort, the congregation of the Central Baptist Church, Lee Avenue, will break ground for the large new educational building that will be erected immediately south of the present structure. It will be of solid masonry and will be such as to care for this growing church for some years to come. This congregation, led by dynamic Rev. C. Roger Johnson, has made remarkable progress in the past few years. To him and his energetic and devout membership must be attributed praise for the fine job that has accompanied their untiring efforts.

Rev. A. T. Mitchell, over at Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, is always doing something that is unique. He will run true to form on Sunday. To begin with he says that there are three things that will operate to get a pastor removed from his pulpit before he is ready to go. Here is the list:

"To try to sing special music when he is a punk singer; to quote to his flock Greek and Hebrew, when his hearers are not suited to understand and care little; and the last of these 'misconducts' he cites is to relate his past family history in every sermon."

Well, he isn't going to do all these things but he promises to break a record. If the church has 500 in Sunday school Sunday, he will stand up and sing a solo—something he has never done before in his life. He suggests that everybody be there to witness his initial attempt in a musical way.

It should be just a wonderful experience for him and for his many hearers!

Brynnner-Type
'Hair' Rewards

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 29 (UP)—East High school youths borrowed several pairs of barbers' clippers Thursday and gave each other "Yul Brynnner haircuts."

"We did it just to be different," one boy explained. "If Yul Brynnner can do it and get an academy award, maybe we can get something for it, too."

They did. They got suspended from school.

12. HURRY, yes; but the clue is certainly an understatement for HARRY. HARRYING a man is apt to have a much stronger effect than merely making him irritable.

14. SHAKE not SHARE. It may prove impossible" suggests that you DO TRY. But in a stubborn argument you attack the other person's beliefs, rather than make any effort to SHARE them. One does not SHAPE another's beliefs. You would try to do more than just SHADE "the other person's beliefs" in a STUBBORN argument. SHAME and SHARE are not good.

17. SIGN is satisfactory. How long it takes to SIGN is imponderable, depending on length of name, writing ability, etc.

19. TEAM not BEAM. A TEAM may, or may not, be brilliant.

If the light is strong enough to form a distinct BEAM, it MUST be to some degree brilliant.

REAM or SEAM are too vague.

DUN not DIN

20. DUN not DIN. The clue refers to something effective in the future - "prove to be." DIN can BE a nuisance, always in the immediate present. A DUN (a demand for payment) might "prove" (turn out at some later time) to be a nuisance, though perhaps quite innocuous at a time when you don't owe any money. DEN is remote. What kind of DEN? DON is not apt.

21. BED, not BED. No same

BID ("same one") can be made "twice." This would be a second BID, not the "same one." A maid may well be asked to make a BED over again, that is, "twice" — perhaps to change the linen or if not neatly made.

CLUES DOWN:

1. FAIL rather than JAIL. For cheating, as in a school examination, it is reasonable to FAIL a man. Regarding JAIL "cheating" is not a legal term - "fraud" would be the term used. It would not be for the act of "cheating" that you would BAIL a man. It would not be "reasonable" to TAIL him.

3. Anybody can learn by reading a LOT. "Keen seaman," rather than just any person, calls for LOG as the stronger answer.

MARCH FITS

5. MARCH fits "cancelled better than MATCH. Cancellation implies the giving out of an order, as in the case of a MARCH. A MATCH is NOT usually CANCELLED BECAUSE of bad weather, but most likely merely postponed.

7. KINDNESS is an ADMIRABLE quality, but hardly an "INSPIRING" one. KING links better with the idea of inspiration.

9. Always "lying around" implies that there are times when they should be there, which favors flower POTS which, on occasions, SHOULD be there. PETS should never be on the flower-bed, and he won't like to see them there AT ALL. PITS is vague. What kind of PITS?

11. SLY, not SPY. SLYNESS is certainly to be condemned; but a SPY needs skill and courage, and may be ADMIRABLE, particularly if he is not an enemy SPY. It is not "natural" to "despise" a man who is SHY - you done by the airforce or artillery. Furthermore, it is unlikely they would BOMB the whole wood but rather some target in the wood.

17. SLY, not SPY. SLYNESS is certainly to be condemned; but a SPY needs skill and courage, and may be ADMIRABLE, particularly if he is not an enemy SPY. It is not "natural" to "despise" a man who is SHY - you want to help him.

10. COMB is closer to the point, since the clue mentions "soldiers" Only "soldiers," being ground forces, would COMB a wood.

BOMBING a wood would probably be done by the airforce or artillery. Furthermore, it is unlikely they would BOMB the whole wood but rather some target in the wood.

12. SLY, not SPY. SLYNESS is certainly to be condemned; but a SPY needs skill and courage, and may be ADMIRABLE, particularly if he is not an enemy SPY. It is not "natural" to "despise" a man who is SHY - you want to help him.

want to help him.

want to help him.

17. SLY, not SPY. SLYNESS is certainly to be condemned; but a SPY needs skill and courage, and may be ADMIRABLE, particularly if he is not an enemy SPY. It is not "natural" to "despise" a man who is SHY - you

Stock Market Bogs Down In Effort To Rise

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — The stock market bogged down again today after three days of rising prices and improving volume.

As the session started it looked as if the market was really going to town. Stocks once again assured the leadership and were in active demand. The motor shares were wobbly but on balance the market was higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 40 cents to $174.20 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down 70 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

Out of 1,121 issues traded, decline outnumbered advances by 460 to 380. There were 37 new 1957 highs as against 23 new lows.

Volume totaled 1,650,000 shares compared with 1,930,000 yesterday.

Among the 15 most active stocks here were 7 declines, 3 advances and 5 unchanged.

Corporate bonds were lower on balance in moderately active trading.

U. S. government bonds fell in low dealings over the counter.

Indians, Wildcats On Diamond Today

Redskins Seek Third Straight Triumph Here

The Northeast Louisiana State Indians get their last tune-up before piling into Gulf States when they meet the Louisiana College Wildcats here this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Northeast baseball diamond.

It will be the third game of the season for Coach George Luffey's Redskins who defeated Delta State of Cleveland, Miss., in their first two engagements.

The Wildcats, a non-conference opponent, opened the season by defeating McNeese State, the G.S.C. title defender, but yesterday the Wildcats were halted by Northwestern State's Demons, 7-3.

Coach Luffey last night tagged Billy Joe "Bo" Laird as his starter today and said he plans to spell Laird with Lyle Dorsey and Barr Wayne Taylor. However, Taylor appeared to be suffering with a cold yesterday and may be held out of action. If Taylor has a cold today, Coach Luffey will turn Jim Mahoney, Jackie Norman, Joe Gross, Carroll George, and Larry Clements for his third hurler.

The Redskin lineup is also in doubt as Coach Luffey plans to use about "everything" he's got.

"We need work, and I plan to use just about everybody," Luffey said. "That's the way to get game experience and prepare for the rugged road of the Gulf States race."

And by "everybody" Coach Luffey means catchers Guy Gannaway, Ray Hopper, and Jim Laudadio; infielders "Sleepy" Reynolds, Zeke Estep, Jack Brooks, Ed Aulds, Harry Rushing, Gary Hubkay, Homer Rouse, Ken Venable, John Freeman, and Ronnie Waiters, and outfielders Vern Freeman, Ike McMullen, Mitchell Hughes, and James Mock.

The Redskins launch their conference campaign here next Friday against the Northwestern Demons, and follow with a Saturday double header here with Southeastern.

Except for today's game and an April 30 meeting with Louisiana College at Pineville, the remainder of the Tribe's games will be G.S.C. affairs with the season to end May 11.

Will Yankees
Be First Club
To Jump West

ALBANY, N.Y., March 29 (AP)—"Will the New York Yankees be the first major league club to move to the Pacific coast?"

Charles Young, sports editor of the Knickerbockers News and a veteran in baseball circles, posed that question today and said it was being discussed around the grapefruit league in Florida.

Young wrote in his column that he had been inclined to laugh when he first heard the report. But, Young said, the man who passed the report along to Young had said he had "come around to the conclusion that there may be something to it" x x x."

Young quoted the unidentified man as saying:

"I'm told that Dan Topping, one of the New York Yankees' owners, wants to be the first major leaguer to go to California. My informant insists that Topping has an interest, along with the Brooklyn Dodgers, in the Los Angeles ball park, and eventually the Yankees will move there."

Early Lead Sends Wave To 8-6 Win

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 29 (UPI)—Tulane broke fast and held on during a strong stretch drive by Vanderbilt Friday as the Greenies defeated Vandy 8-6 in a baseball season opener for the Commodores.

Tulane had built the margin to 8-0 in the third inning.

Tulane, running its record to 5-1 this season, had to go to the bench for relief of its ace, hurler, right-hander Clubby Marks. Doug Regan, relieved Marks in the seventh, to save the win.

Truett Bayles, Vandy righthander from Anderson, Ala., went the distance for the Commodores, hurling shutout ball for the last six innings. He also smashed a 350-foot double to deep left center to drive in one of the Commodores' runs.

A pair of double plays chilled Commodore hopes late in the battle. One came in the seventh when Regan got Gary Page to hit into a twin killing. The other came in the ninth after Dee Hardin beat out an infield hit and Bayles followed with a hard grounder to short which was converted into a double play.

Bayles walked only two men and struck out seven. Both Bayles and Marks were charged with five earned runs.

Tulane got three runs in the

Sundew Wins Steeplechase By 8 Lengths

AINSTRE, England, March 29 (UPI)—Sundew, a 20-1 outsider but the biggest and stoutest of 35 starters, made almost every jump a winning one today in capturing the 11th Grand National Steeplechase.

The strapping, 11-year-old gelding, ridden by Britain's champion jockey Fred Winter, forged to the front at the second jump, weathered a near-spill three fences from home and then drove to an eight-length victory over Wyndhur.

The 7-year-old, Wyndhur, youngest horse in the race, finished second, six lengths ahead of Tiberetta, a 6-1 shot. The betting favorite, Goosander, finished a lagging sixth, in this 4-mile, 856-yard 30-obstacle test which has become known as the "graveyard of favorites." The last favorite to win was Spring, 30 years ago.

The two American entries also met disaster as only 11 surefooted thoroughbreds finished the world's toughest horse race, on which one of the big Irish sweepstakes is based.

Virginius, owned by Sir Winston Churchill's American cousin, Raymond Guest of King George, Va., fell at the first fence. Monkey Wrench, owned by Mrs. John F. C. Bryce of Mill River Stud at South Arlington, Vt., pulled up after making the first circuit of the track.

The winning time was 9 minutes, 42.4 seconds, well of the record 9:30.4 set by Golden Miller in 1934.

The victory was worth $24,000. Wyndhur's second place was worth $3,000.40 and Tiberetta's third place finish $1,500.20.

Glorious, twelfth, third favorite, at 100 to 8 and the only grey gelding in the Grand National, finished in the Grand National where greys haven't won for 45 years, made a gallant effort but finished fourth.

A rank outsider, The Crofter, at 66-1, was fifth, just ahead of the 5-1 favorite, Goosander.

Hart Royal, the overwhelming choice of the writers, fell at the first fence.

Ferriday Royal Ambassadors Plan Softball

FERRIDAY, La., March 29 (UPI)—R. T. Bonnette, Ferriday, associational Royal Ambassador leader for the Delta Baptist Association announced today that the Royal Ambassador chapters in the association will be invited to join a softball tournament.

The teams will be formed and coached by each chapter's counselor, and a tournament will be played to determine an association champion. This team will meet with other association champions from the State of Louisiana, and will play in a state championship tournament.

Rev. Angus D. Nell, state Royal Ambassador secretary is making Fullerton, Calif., Friday because plans for the state meet to be held in Alexandria during the summer, child.

Crandall Called Home

BRADENTON, Fla., March 29 (UPI)—Catcher Del Crandall of the Milwaukee Braves, called off the field in the second inning of an exhibition game against the St. Louis Cardinals, left hurriedly for Milwaukee.

The loss was charged to Elton Greer, who started for Mississippi College.

Early Lead Sends Wave To 8-6 Win

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 29 (UPI)—Tulane broke fast and held on during a strong stretch drive by Vanderbilt Friday as the Greenies defeated Vandy 8-6 in a baseball season opener for the Commodores.

Tulane built the margin to 8-0 in the third inning.

Tulane, running its record to 5-1 this season, had to go to the bench for relief of its ace hurler, righthander Chubby Marks. Doug Regan, relieved Marks in the seventh to save the win.

Truett Bayles, Vandy righthander from Anderson, Ala., won the distance for the Commodores, hurling shutout ball for the last six innings. He also smashed a 350-foot double to deep left center to drive in one of the Commodores' runs.

A pair of double plays chilled Commodore hopes late in the battle. One came in the seventh when Regan got Gary Page to hit into a twin killing. The other came in the ninth after Dee Hardin beat out an infield hit and Bayles followed with a hard grounder to short which was converted into a double play.

Bayles walked only two men and struck out seven. Both Bayles and Marks were charged with five earned runs.

Tulane got three runs in the

Sundew Wins Steeplechase By 8 Lengths

AINSTREE, England, March 29 (UPI)—Sundew, a 20-1 outsider but the biggest and stoutest of 35 starters, made almost every jump a winning one today in capturing the 11th Grand National Steeplechase.

The strapping, 11-year-old gelding, ridden by Britain's champion jockey Fred Winter, forged to the front at the second jump, weathered a near-spill three fences from home and then drove to an eight-length victory over Wyndburgh.

The 7-year-old Wyndburgh, youngest horse in the race, finished second, six lengths ahead of Tiberetta, a 66-1 shot. The betting favorite, Goosander, finished a lagging sixth, in this 4-mile, 856-yard 30-obstacle test which has become known as the "graveyard of favorites." The last favorite to win was Spring, 30 years ago.

The two American entries also met disaster as only 11 surefooted thoroughbreds finished the world's toughest horse race, on which one of the big Irish sweepstakes is based.

Virginia, owned by Sir Winston Churchill's American cousin, Raymond Guest of King George, Va., fell at the first fence. Monkey Wrench, owned by Mrs. John F. C. Bryce of Mill River Stud at South Arlington, Vt., pulled up after making the first circuit of the track.

The winning time was 9 minutes, 42.4 seconds, well of the record 9:30.4 set by Golden Miller in 1934. The victory was worth $24,000. Wyndburgh's second place was worth $3,008.40 and Tiberetta's third place finish $1,509.20.

Glorious Twelfth, third favorite, at 100 to 8 and the only grey gelding in the Grand National where greys haven't won for 45 years, made a gallant effort but finished fourth.

A rank outsider, The Crofter, at 66-1, was fifth, just ahead of the 5-1 favorite, Goosander.

Hart Royal, the overwhelming choice of the writers, fell at the first fence.

Ferriday Royal Ambassadors Plan Softball

FERRIDAY, La., March 29 (Special) — R. T. Bonnette, Ferriday, association Royal Ambassador leader for the Delta Baptist Association announced today that the Royal Ambassador chapters in the association will be invited to join a softball tournament.

The teams will be formed and coached by each chapter's counselor, and a tournament will be played to determine an association champion. This team will meet with other association champions from the State of Louisiana, and will play in a state championship tournament.

Rev. Angus D. Nell, state Royal Ambassador secretary is making plans for the state meet to be held at the Illinois of his eight-day-old in Alexandria during the summer.

GRANDALL CALLED HOME

BRADENTON, Fla., March 29 (UPI)—Catcher Del Grandall of the Milwaukee Braves, called off the field in the second inning of an exhibition game against the St. Louis Cardinals, left hurriedly for Fullerton, Calif., Friday because of the illness of his eight-day-old child.

Short-Lived Hopes For Cyprus Settlement Vanishing Again

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst Makarios' release from his prison is now the rest of the world. The British have refused to lift emergency rules against the pro-Cypriot compromises and some negotiations over the future of Cyprus, Greece, Cypriots, and Makarios. The prospect that they have dashed the very short-lived hopes engendered by Archbishop Makarios' release from Cyprus, even ever, has never been very good.

The one-day optimism expressed by Western diplomats overlooked several fundamentals, anyway. First, the British have no intention of getting out of Cyprus.

Her base there bears a relationship to her whole naval base to add to her military installations.

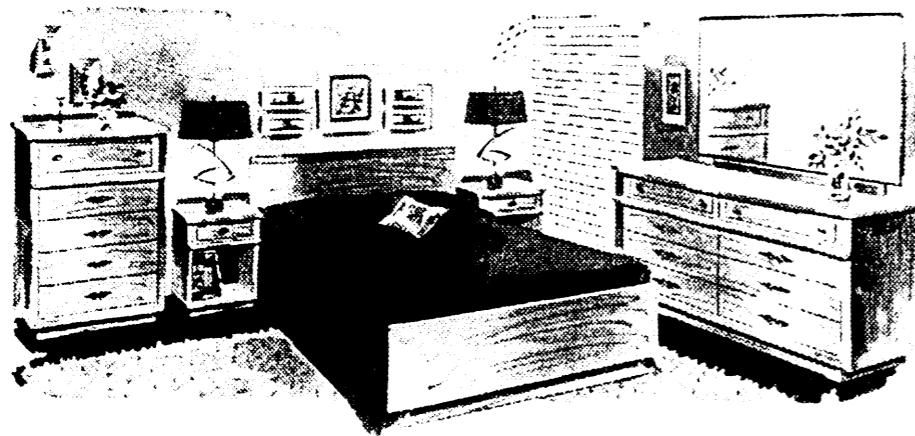

The British are offering the Cypriots a modicum of home rule, instead of the union with Greece, which they demand.

possibility of ultimate union with Greece. Turkey has threatened to fight before she will see it happen.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Tormented 4-Year-Old

Should Not Be Scolded

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED In any home and in any neighborhood one of the big questions is how to get along with the people in it. We are all given to misunderstanding. We all can become indignant over trifles. We seem to feel that aggression often pays higher dividends than submission. It is from such attitudes that children take their times plays quite well. And she cues and translate them into ac-wil never fight back and never has. She says she doesn't like to hit an I cannot convince her that if she would not run home and cry they would soon tire of tormenting her.

"She has a brother of three and a sister of six months and she gets along fine with her brother, though she loses in any scrap with him. She is healthy and active."

It seems to me that what you refuse to accept is that you have a child that prefers following to leading and peace to conflict. You can't make her into a different type of child. She acknowledges defeat, by crying, and I am sure she doesn't like that any better than you. But she would rather do this than fight and stand up for herself or talk back or get the better of someone else.

Accept Her
So be it. That is the way she is. Help her by accepting her for what she is, and thus at least take away your disapproval of her as an extra burden for her to bear.

It is she — not you — who must learn to get along with her friends. To make her feel inferior, to scold her for her acts only confuse her. When she comes home crying say, "Next time you'll have a better time."

The panelies she suffers will convince her far more than words that maybe there is a different way to handle her comrades. Until she tries it of her own accord and sees its results — what you say will not help. We need that peaceable type of child, too.

If you would like our 10-cent booklet "What, When, How to Tell Children About Sex," send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Mrs. Tidwell
HDC Hostess

Mrs. Tuck Taylor and Mrs. Leon Caldwell of the McGuire HDC gave an interesting demonstration on caring for and cleaning furniture, when the Bosco club met in March with Mrs. Lee Tidwell and Mrs. D. D. Calhoun, co-hostess.

Mrs. James Pender presided at the meeting and called from reports from the following leaders: Clothing, Mrs. J. R. Lee; Family Life, Mrs. C. W. Hair; Poultry, Mrs. A. C. Hodnett; Food Preservation, Mrs. Wesley Taylor.

Members were asked to participate in the cakeraama to be held April 2-5. Attending the meeting were Mrs. Sam Taylor, Mrs. W. D. Calhoun, Mrs. James Pender, Mrs. J. R. Lee, Mrs. A. C. Hodnett, Mrs. Wesley Taylor, Mrs. C. W. Hair, Mrs. Henry Hinton and the hostesses. Mrs. Roy Hart was welcomed as a new member and guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Lonnie Pender and Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Caldwell.

The April meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. D. Franklin.

A new single staff indoor TV antenna helps provide clear pictures for each channel with a twist of its electronic 12-position beam selector. It may be used for black and white or color TV reception.

MISS JACKIE WILLIAMSON and Miss Loretta Gunter have been honored by the Oak Grove Future Homemakers of America as girls of the month in the local chapter. They attended the district meeting held in Ruston earlier this month.

WHY GROW OLD
Exercises For Older Persons

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some individuals exercise regularly through the years so that fairly strenuous exercise is safe for them even in later life. However these people are in the minority. I believe, too, that women are more likely to drop exercise and sports sooner than men.

Nevertheless, exercise of some sort gives a boost to anyone. This is especially true of older folks because they are apt to have poor circulation. Today I would like to give some helpful suggestions to the older man and woman. Of course you should ask your doctor about these if there is any reason for doubt — such as age or illness of any sort.

Many older persons benefit by brisk body rubbing. This stirs up surface circulation. Use a rough towel and rub until the body is pink.

Daily Walk

Practically everyone can take a daily walk. How far you go and how briskly you walk should depend on your physical condition. You no doubt can increase your ability at any age if you walk regularly and build up gradually. Naturally you should stop before you are fatigued.

The following exercises are EXTREMELY easy and mild:

Lie on the bed and raise your arms up in the air over you. Let the arms drop back to the bed in a relaxed manner. Continue.

Still lying on the bed bend both knees and place the feet on the bed. Breathe in deeply and slowly. Hold your breath while you count to 10. While the lungs are full of air, pat gently but briskly on the ribs, using both hands.

Still on the bed, bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. Grasp the knee with the hands and pull back toward the abdomen. Return leg to bed. Do the same thing with the right knee. Continue, alternating.

Up On Your Toes

Now stand up. Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height, as you rise up on the toes. Return arms to sides and lower heels to the floor. Continue.

The following is a good way to start exercise. Stand and hold onto the back of a chair or the end of the bed. Shake the right leg vigorously for a while and then the left. Release chair top and shake the hands, going limp at the wrists and fingers.

If you have more leisure now than you used to have, you may

Departmental Club Meets
In Oak Grove

Hostesses for the Woman's Departmental Club of Oak Grove were Mrs. Joe Sanford, Mrs. George Rundell and Mrs. Mildred Franklin. The meeting was held in the social room of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Harry Roundtree, retiring president, presided. The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Ellis Womack and Mrs. Mrs. Jack Golson, the club collect. Mrs. D. B. Fiske reported on the district meeting in Mangham.

Mrs. Charles Deal, Mrs. E. L. Tatum, Mrs. Ellis Womack and Mrs. Roundtree were appointed as a committee to serve on the P. T. A. banquet honoring the Oak Grove basketball team.

Mrs. A. Higginbotham and Mrs. N. Pollard were introduced as guests. Mrs. C. Davis talked to the group on cancer and Mrs. Tatum showed films on signals and warning of the disease.

The meeting was preceded by a luncheon.

Logtown HDC

The Logtown Home Demonstration club held its regular March meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas G. Stockwell with Mrs. C. C. Scharf serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. A. T. Stout, president, opened the meeting with the Thought of the Day and Mrs. W. A. Calloway led the singing. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by the vice president, Mrs. Neal McHenry. Mrs. Euna Spielman introduced Mrs. Jane Bush who gave a most interesting and informative talk and demonstrated the art of making minor electrical repairs.

Reports were given by the following leaders: Mrs. J. Y. Pipes, clothing and poultry; Mrs. F. D. Luton, family life; Mrs. J. B. Filhiol Sr., food preservation.

Refreshments were served during the social hour to the guests, Mrs. P. C. Mason, Mrs. Jane Bush, Mrs. D. Knickerbocker, Mrs. Euna Spielman and to the following members, Mrs. Filhiol Sr., Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Luton, Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Cranberry, Mrs. Garland Shipp, Mrs. Haynes, Mrs. Pipes, Mrs. Calloway, Mrs. McHenry Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Zachary.

Hair Styles Complement Hats To Give Attractive Look

Working closely with millinery designers, America's leading hair stylists complete the well-groomed, attractive look for feminine headlines this spring with coiffures that complement hat styles.

In keeping with the greater femininity of the new fashions, hair is generally longer. This new length is delightfully versatile. It may be set to look either shorter or longer than it actually is.

The Thirties make news in hair as well as hats. To complement the new, deep-fitting cloches, several salons recall the bobs of that era with waves close to the head and more horizontal than they have been in years. Hair styles that emphasize the contour of the head fit neatly under head-hugging crowns. Soft tendrils reaching forward on the cheek and brow flatter even the deepest of felt cloches. For short hair, there are new feather cuts with full, soft bangs blending into fluffy sides to form an attractive frame for the face beneath turn-back cloches and little girl brettons.

The tilt in hats, both tiny

Senate Votes Approval Of $1.5 Billion Water Projects

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON March 29.—By a vote of 42-22, the Senate put its okay on a new 1½ billion dollar water projects authorization bill which is virtually the same as one President Eisenhower vetoed last year. The bill now goes to the House.

The 42-22 margin is a bit shy of a two-thirds majority which would be required to override the President if he should veto the 1957 bill. However, an even one-third of the senators were not on hand for final passage last night, so that phase was inconclusive.

And he added that a starting point would be the authorization bills.

This move failed, 55-27. Of the 27 for the motion, 22 were Republicans.

Projects in the bill include: Navigation projects (figures are estimated costs):

Southern states—eradication of water hyacinths, $1,012,500 year for five years.

Mississippi — Gulpport Harbor, maintenance only; Dog River cut-off, Pascagoula Harbor, $44,000.

Louisiana—Barataria Bay $1,700,000. Flood control projects:

Alabama and Mississippi—Tomibee River basin $19,711,000. Alabama — Alabama River at Montgomery $1,300,000.

Lower Mississippi River—channel improvements, main stem $75,000,000.

Arkansas — White River backwater project $2,300,000; Boeuf and Tensas rivers and Bayou Macon $1,212,000; St. Francis River basin $33,674,000; Gilbert Reservoir and addition of power facilities at Lone Rock Reservoir $57,000,000.

Louisiana — Old River Navigation lock $28,200,000; Bayou Checquii $547,000.

Mississippi — McKinney Bayou $800,000.

Tennessee—Wolf River $1,362,000.

Arkansas-Oklahoma — Millwood Reservoir and seven upstream reservoirs $53,235,000.

Surveys authorized (no amounts listed):

Louisiana—Lake Pontchartrain, in interest of protecting salt Bayou Road.

DISTRICT SCOUT MEET

FERRIDAY, March 29. (Special) —Lloyd Love, district chairman of the Southeast District Committee of the Ouachita Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America announced that there will be a district committee meeting at the Ferriday High School cafeteria on Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Love stated that this will be a dinner meeting and urged all Scout leaders in the Southeast District to be present.

As Borgenine's experience demonstrates — the journey from obscurity to the heights of Mt. Oscar encompasses numerous strange turns. . . . Anna Magnani was a little known actress when she married a famous Italian director. He convinced her that she lacked acting ability. Consequently, Miss Magnani renounced the grease paint realm to concentrate on being a wife and mother. Then came a pair of tragic blows: Her son was crippled by polio and she was divorced. In order to support herself and provide medical care for her child, she began making movies. Out of her personal agony came the supreme glory of her artistry. After Miss Magnani learned she was an Oscar-winner for her emoting in "The Rose Tattoo," she exclaimed: "My God! They're trying to make a monument out of me!"

The community council through the cooperation of town council put the rat extermination program into effect. The town council purchased through the Morehouse Health Department two poisons. These were used because they are not harmful to man or pets, or other animals, but will kill rats.

The boys of the local F. F. A. chapter, under supervision of a representative of the Morehouse Health Unit put the poison out. It was first put out in December, and in order to kill as many as possible before they return to the fields, it was put out this last week of March.

Letters were sent from the Oak Ridge community council to all rural people giving them the opportunity to purchase the poison through Morehouse Health Department at a reduced rate.

This effort to reduce rats in Ward five will be done periodically.

La Salle High School Enters Music Festival

OLLA, March 29 (Special) —The La Salle High School band under the direction of Glynn Gardner will enter the District 2 Music Festival at Northwestern State College today.

Last year the band won a superior rating as a Class BB band. Although the enrolment of the school has dropped since last year putting them in Class C, they plan to enter as a Class B band.

The music chosen to be played is as follows: March—Repat Band by Lincoln; required selection—Glorie by Nobile; Scenes From the Sierras by Bennett.

The band was especially proud of its Superior rating last year because due to a lack of an elementary band program the students have no instrumental music until they reach the eighth grade.

Featuring HOWARD LINDSAY, DOROTHY STICKNEY and ILKA CHASE, KAY BALLARD, ALICE GHOSTLEY and Introducing JON CYPHER... with EDITH ADAMS... Live... in color and black-and-white.

STONE SHAPED AND COLORED LIKE A POTATO AND FOUND IN A HILL OF POTATOES
Submitted by MARGARET PETZY-LAWRENCE, MASS.

JONESBORO, March 29 (Special) —Funeral services for Henry McBride, 61, Jonesboro, Hodge High School educator and ex-sheriff, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday.

McBride died late yesterday of a heart attack.

Services will be conducted at Zion Rest Baptist Church with Rev. Leland Swanner officiating. Burial will follow in the church cemetery under the direction of Edmonds Funeral Home.

At the time of his death, the well-known Jonesboro man was teaching the senior class of Jonesboro — Hodge High School. He served as sheriff from 1948 until 1952, and was deputy sheriff eight years prior to his election as sheriff.

He had been an educator in Ouachita parish and Jackson parish schools before becoming a law enforcement officer.

A native of Jackson parish, he had lived there his entire life with the exception of his tour of duty during World War I. He was a member of the Zion Rest Baptist church.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Alma McBride, of Jonesboro; one daughter, Mrs. Carey Stables, of Jonesboro; one son, H. D. McBride, of Jonesboro; three brothers, D. W. McBride, of Oak Grove; L. W. McBride, of Hattiesburg, Miss., and J. B. McBride, of Jonesboro; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys Tucker, of Shreveport; Mrs. H. H. Shows, of Minden; Mrs. Clyde Payne, of Rayville, and Mrs. Jimmy Minter, of Jonesboro; and seven grandchildren.

Wixson, who wrestled masked under the name of Black Diamond, allegedly was the leader of about eight men who specialized in robbery, covering a three-state area, including Arkansas and Mississippi. Most of the gang are now serving prison terms.

Police reported at the time of the incident that Campbell returned home shortly after supposedly going to work to find Johnson at home with his wife. He was charged with firing on the oil field worker, who died of bullet wounds shortly afterwards.

The grand jury returned 21 indictments, including 10 against one man.

Albert Morris Evans, a middle age transient, was indicted on 10 counts of forgery. He plead guilty to nine in circuit court early today, but "not guilty" to one of the 10 charges.

Bobby Wixson, 28, of Natchez, leader of the Black Diamond gang, was indicted for robbery. His companion, Bobby Gene Johnson,

Senate Votes Approval Of $1.5 Billion Water Projects

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON March 29.—By a vote of 42-22, the Senate put okay on a new 1½ billion dollar water projects authorization bill which is virtually the same as one President Eisenhower vetoed last year. The bill now goes to the House.

The 42-22 margin is a bit shy of a two-thirds majority which would be required to override the President if he should veto the 1957 bill. However, an even one-third of the senators were not on hand for final passage last night, so that phase was inconclusive.

Before passing the bill the Senate turned back several proposals advanced by their sponsors as economy efforts.

One effort had the strong support of Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.).

The bill itself is not an appropriation measure but would authorize future appropriations of more than 1½ billion dollars for more than 100 flood control, navigation, hydroelectric and beach erosion projects in virtually all states.

The bill was passed in the face of a bit of critical comment by President Eisenhower earlier in the week concerning the way Congress authorizes public works projects. The President told his Wednesday news conference some projects apparently are authorized for political purposes.

Republicans gave strong support to a move by Sen. Hruska (R-Neb.) to send the bill back to the Senate Public Works Committee with instructions to trim out at least 350 million dollars worth of projects.

Knowland told the Senate the proposal offered an opportunity to make a "slight contribution" toward getting the budget problem under control. He said that while the bill was an authorization and not an appropriations bill, nevertheless Congress must start some place if it is "to get control of appropriations."

And he added that a starting point would be the authorization bills.

This move failed, 55-27. Of the 27 for the motion, 22 were Republicans.

Projects in the bill include: Navigation projects (figures are estimated costs):

Southern states—eradication of water hyacinths, $1,012,500 year for five years.

Arkansas—Gulfport Harbor, maintenance only; Dog River cutoff, Pascagoula Harbor, $44,000.

Louisiana—Barataria Bay $1,700,000. Flood control projects:

Alabama and Mississippi—Tomibee River basin $19,711,000.

Alabama—Alabama River at Montgomery $1,300,000.

Lower Mississippi River—channel improvements, main stem $75,000.

Arkansas—White River backwater project $2,330,000; Bœuf and Tensas rivers and Bayou Macon $1,212,000; St. Francis River basin $35,674,000; Gilbert Reservoir and addition of power facilities at Lone Rock Reservoir $57,000.

Louisiana—Old River Navigation lock $28,200,000; Bayou Cheurre $547,000.

Mississippi—McKinney Bayou $800,000.

Tennessee—Wolf River $1,932,000.

Arkansas-Oklahoma—Millwood Reservoir and seven upstream reservoirs $53,235,000.

Surveys authorized (no amounts listed):

Louisiana—Lake Pontchartrain, in interest of protecting salt Bayou Road.

Both are now serving prison terms in the state penitentiary at Parchman, Miss., for grand larceny. They were convicted in February in Jefferson county.

A murder charge against Mrs. Maurine Evans, 48, a river boat captain, died after he was shot once with a .22 caliber revolver. The bullet struck him in the heart. He was dead on arrival at a nearby hospital.

The grand jury also returned a "no true bill" in another fatal shooting case. Jesse Campbell, 49, of Natchez, was cleared of charges of shooting Bill Johnson, 29, of Natchez early this year.

Police reported at the time of the incident that Campbell returned home shortly after supposedly going to work to find Johnson at home with his wife. He was charged with firing on the oil field worker, who died of bullet wounds shortly afterwards.

9-Ship Convoy Reopens Suez Canal To Traffic

CAIRO, March 29 (UPI)—A nine-ship Russian convoy, pushed into the Suez Canal at Port Said Friday by elements hostile to labor, has been re-opened to traffic. The first big transit operation since the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt in 1956, was delayed, however, by heavy sandstorms which trapped the vessels in the Great Bitter Lakes.

The convoy, which included two free payment of tolls to Egypt.

Egypt Serves Notice It Will Operate Canal Without Help

UN Unaware Of Buildup By Egyptians

CAIRO, March 29 (UPI)—UN officials here said today they had no knowledge of any buildup of Egyptian military police in the Gaza Strip.

The officials were asked to comment on a statement by Joseph Tokak, of the Israel Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem, that the return of "Egyptians into the Gaza Strip is in full swing."

Tokak said UN Forces and Arab Army Force and Arab police patrols had taken over the guarding of the Israel-Gaza Strip border and that this marked "the complete dismembering of the UNFIC in the Gaza Strip." He described the Arabs in the joint patrols as local Gaza police under Egyptian command and declared that development shows how Egyptian Dictator Col. Nasser is trying to turn the UN into a tool of his policy of belligerency against Israel."

UN officials here said yesterday about 50 or 60 Egyptian military police went into the Gaza Strip with the Coptians, a mounted platoon and a liaison mission with UNFIC.

They said the Egyptians had given assurances to UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that they would not exercise their right in the immediate future to send three infantry battalions back into the strip.

Northeast La. Deaths

WADE H. McCAIN

WINNSBORO, La., March 29 (UPI)—Funeral services were held today for Wade H. McCain, 84, Franklin Parish lawyer, who died yesterday at St. Louis Baptist Church near Winnsboro.

Interment followed in the family plot.

Rail Clerk Union Plans Own Probe

HOUSTON, Tex., March 29 (UPI)—George Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, said Friday he was sure there was no corruption in his union but to be sure "we're going to take a quick look and see."

Harrison, who said he voted to telephone Friday to expel Teamster boss Dave Beck, issued the statement at his union's yearly organizational meeting in Houston. The brotherhood is the nation's largest railway union, with 350,000 members.

Harrison, speaking as a member of the ethical practices committee, passed out copies of the codes of ethical practices and urged some 150 delegates at the meeting to read and study them.

"Our purpose is to keep this brotherhood clean and true from subversion, corruption, racketeering, and any other unethical practices," Harrison said. He said extra auditors would be hired to "take a quick look and make sure our own house is clean."

Speaking of the union's proposed action against Beck, he said: "We will dig into it and find out if Beck has been stealing."

Beck was suspended by the AFL-CIO executive council Friday and ordered to stand union trial.

"I am convinced in my own mind that this investigation is being given steam by elements hostile to labor. They are trying to get a national right-to-work law and possibly even government regulation of unions. But the way the AFO-CIO must meet this onslaught is to clean its own house," the brotherhood president said.

TABLE MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UPI)—A House commerce subcommittee today set for hearing next Thursday and Friday a bill by Sen. Frank Smith (D-Miss.) to require labeling of cotton and synthetic textiles as to fabric content.

Ships up to 20,000 tons can now use the canal, which has been closed since the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt and the United Nations salvage crew since the Angle-French invasion.

Passage was delayed, however, when heavy sandstorms trapped the vessels in the Great Bitter Lakes.

The surprise move touched off the 7,000-ton Italian freighter.

Survivors include his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Norma Ray.

Dickey of Cherry Point, N.C.,

three grandchildren; one brother,

W. E. Burke of Monroe, and one sister, Mrs. Cora McMillan of Arkansas.

The ships steamed only about

10 miles north of Suez on their midnight journey before a blinding sandstorm whipped up from the desert and trapped them in the Great Bitter Lakes.

The ships dropped anchor during the storm, and spokesman said they would resume their journey early Saturday, if the weather permitted.

As the vessel moved past Suez

the UN salvage team was straightening up the last sunken wreck, the freight Alekdr, which still partly blocked the Suez en route. The workmen were scheduled to start lifting the Alekdr out of the channel Monday, and clearance was expected to be entirely completed by the end of the week.

Machinewgn Fire Blasts

Israeli Train

TEL AVIV, Israel, March 29 (UPI)—A machine gun fire from Jordanian territory caused a Jordanian passenger train on the border railway between Beidha and Rosh

Haifa Tuesday night, an Israeli spokesman announced.

Some said it appears to conflict with western demands that the armistice operation be "unbiased

from the politics of any one nation."

They also noted that Egypt had offered some western proposals for the establishment of an international agency to operate the canal.

Statement of St. John Foster

Dalles and other U.S. officials discussed the memorandum Friday

in a "summit" conference with

British Ambassador Sir Harold

Chester and Sir Frederick Rogers

Miller, permanent undersecretary of the British foreign office.

Few Students Being Barred By Negro College

JACKSON, Miss., March 29 (P)—"Only four to six" of the 450 students who struck at Alcorn A&M (Negro) college in objection to a professor's newspaper writings have been denied re-admission, the college board said to-day.

Dr. E. R. Jobe, executive secretary of the board, said Alcorn president J. D. Boyer notified the board he has rejected re-admission applications of "only four to six" students on the grounds they were "incorrigible."

In addition, Dr. Jobe said, Prof. Lennon King, whose writings criticized the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and caused the student controversy, still is a member of the faculty but has been on leave since the strike early this month.

Dr. Jobe said the college board ordered expelled all students who declined to return to class but said they could be readmitted with Boyd's approval.

Meanwhile, in Clarksdale, the regional Council of Negro Leadership said four expelled students have begun a tour of Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis and New York to speak "on behalf of about 12 students who were not allowed to re-enter" the college.

The council did not identify any of the students.

Yale Students Annually Trek South With Spring

By JANICE CLARK

CROSSETT March 29 (Special) — As sure as the appearance of every pine branch of golden tips, and the bursting bloom of red bud trees in the forest means that winter is on the wane, the arrival each year of the Yale Forest School students at their camp outside of Crossett means that spring has come to Ashley County and Morehouse Parish.

This migration of the graduate Forestry students from Connecticut to southern Arkansas began 45 years ago, in 1912. Charles Harlan Watzek graduated from the Yale Forest School in 1911, and was instrumental in the following year in bringing the 1912 class to Crossett for their three months' spring field study. That year the boys, along with Professors H. H. Chapman and R. C. Bryant, stayed in the logging camp south of Crossett.

The Yale group has been coming south since 1907, visiting various lumber companies for their study. They continued this practice of going from place to place until 1917, when they began going each year to Urania, Louisiana as guests of the Urania Lumber Company. World War I interrupted these annual migrations, but in 1920 they established a permanent camp at Urania, and later they began coming from that camp up to Crossett for two or three weeks each year.

World War II interrupted these trips for a while in 1942. In 1943 Dr. Chapman retired from his post on the faculty at Yale, and Dr. Walter H. Meyers assumed his position.

In 1946, following the war, Dr. Meyers established the spring camp for the Forest School on Crossett property about a mile east of Crossett. The Crossett Company built eight bunk houses, a wash house, and a dining hall and kitchen for the permanent use of the group. The camp will accommodate as many as 24 students, although an ideal group for study purposes is about 15 or 16.

This year there are nine boys who have come down with Dr. Meyers for the first seven weeks of study in forest management. Three more will come for the final five weeks to study utilization and manufacturing with Dr. H. I. Winer, of the Yale faculty. Their studies will take them into the woods of southern Arkansas and northern Louisiana. Beginning this year William P. Thompson has been appointed assistant to the professors on a permanent basis. He is an instructor at Yale.

There are a number of reasons for this spring trip of the students from the world-famous school. First, according to Dr. Meyers, "The region is the most advanced in its application of forestry principles and practices of any area in the United States. Further, the woods in the south are "open" early in the spring, whereas the northern forests are under a deep blanket of snow until too late for the students to get in their studies before the end of the school year.

During the years students from all over the world have spent the twelve weeks in Crossett, visiting in the homes of the many Yale graduates who live in Crossett, and taking weekend trips to surrounding points of interest. For a number of years the governments of India and Pakistan sent their bright young men to Yale for study, and many of them came to Crossett for the spring field work. There have been students from Canada, Australia, Africa, South and Central America, Scandinavia, Austria, the Ukraine, Japan, Scotland, as well as from Maine to California, and from Wisconsin to Louisiana.

The Crossett Company has drawn many students from this Yale School of Forestry into its own Forestry Division. Many others have found employment in other southern lumber and paper companies. So many times that spring trip for the Yale boys has resulted in a future in southern forestry not anticipated when they packed their bags in Connecticut. And it is partly because of the distribution of these young graduates from the Yale Forestry school throughout this area that it can be said that "This region is the most advanced in its application of forestry principles and practices of any area in the United States."

In addition, Dr. Jobe said, Prof. Glennon King, whose writings criticized the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and caused the student controversy, still is a member of the faculty but has been on leave since the strike early this month.

Dr. Jobe said the college board ordered expelled all students who declined to return to class but said they could be readmitted with Boyd's approval.

Meanwhile, in Clarksdale, the regional Council of Negro Leadership said four expelled students have begun a tour of Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis and New York to speak "on behalf of about 12 students who were not allowed to re-enter" the college.

The council did not identify any of the students.

Cites Need For Trained Women In U.S. Schools

SAN FRANCISCO March 29. P. 37th annual convention of the Some of education's best paid jobs NAWDC.

She is director of the graduate program in student personnel at Syracuse.

"The role we should play in relation to women in education was never more important than it is now, when women's role in society is undergoing dramatic changes and education of women again is on trial," she said.

"Once it could truly be said that the average woman's career ended when she married and began to raise a family.

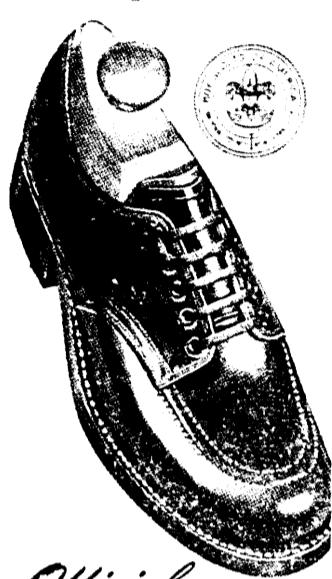

"That is no longer true. The average pattern today — forced primarily by economic pressure — is that the woman works when she finishes school, marries, starts to raise her family and then when they are able to help themselves return to work.

"The increase of married women returning to work in the last 10 years has been the fastest growing phenomenon in American social life."

Since it is the pattern that more and more women must work it is important that they be trained to use their full capacity, and that they have sufficient education that they can hold positions commensurate with those of their husbands, she added.

"There never has been a time in the history of education when women administrators of intelligence, wisdom and skill were needed more in our schools and colleges," Miss Hilton said in her president's address opening the

Cites Need For Trained Women In U.S. Schools

SAN FRANCISCO March 29 (AP) — Some of education's best paid jobs open to women are going begging because of a lack of people trained to fill them. M. Eunice Hilton, president of the National Assn. of Women Deans and Counselors, declared today.

"There never has been a time in the history of education when women administrators of intelligence, wisdom and skill were needed more in our schools and colleges," Miss Hilton said in her president's address opening the

Republicans Hope To Win In Michigan

DETROIT, March 29 (AP) — The first state-wide election in the nation since the presidential balloting last November will be held in Michigan Monday.

Republicans will be fighting to stem a growing succession of Democratic triumphs in this one-time GOP stronghold.

At stake will be seven partisan jobs and three technically non-partisan judgeships.

The partisan posts currently all are held by Republicans. These are the state highway commissioner, the state superintendent of public instruction, two members of the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan, two members of the State Board of Agriculture (this board's sole job is administering Michigan State University) and one member of the State Board of Education.

Michigan has swung sharply to the Democratic column in state politics in the last decade. Ten years ago all 25 statewide elected officers were held by Republicans.

Then G. Mennen Williams broke the monopoly by winning the governorship in 1948. Now in his fifth consecutive term, Williams has carried nine other Democrats into state office. Last November the Democrats swept six out of six statewide contests.

Michigan's spring election, held in odd-numbered years, remained Republican property until 1955 when the Democrats grabbed four of the six contested partisan offices. The two Republicans who were elected had majorities of less than 3,000 votes.

The top fight has centered around the state highway commissioner's job. Republican George Foster of East Lansing is opposed by John Mackie of Flint.
